TELBORG

November 13, 2026

November 12, 2026

AECL and CNL fund fusion research chair at Toronto

Canadian Nuclear Laboratories and Atomic Energy of Canada Limited have announced a $2.5-million endowment to establish a Fusion Research Chair at the University of Toronto. The chair will support the Centre for Fusion Energy and advance Canadian fusion research, talent development, and national capabilities.

Telborg cnl.ca

Commission assesses Poland’s updated climate and energy plan

The European Commission has assessed Poland’s final updated National Energy and Climate Plan, saying it can help Poland meet its 2030 climate and energy targets and contribute to EU 2040 and 2050 goals. The assessment highlights progress on emissions, renewables and efficiency, while urging stronger action on LULUCF, buildings and fossil fuel subsidies.

Telborg European Commission | Energy

Saint Kitts and Nevis explores EU-backed sustainable development priorities

Saint Kitts and Nevis held talks with a European Union delegation on cooperation under the EU’s Global Gateway strategy, focusing on renewable energy, digital infrastructure, maritime links, and sustainability. The discussions highlighted the Nevis geothermal project, a proposed Nevis–St. Kitts interconnection, and potential submarine fibre-optic cable connectivity.

Telborg SKNIS

UK backs Türkiye COP31 electrification pledge

The UK has backed Türkiye’s COP31 ‘35 by 35’ pledge to increase electricity’s share of global energy use to 35% by 2035 and published a clean electrification roadmap. The announcement also cites more than £110 billion of clean energy investment announced since July 2024 and other domestic electrification measures.

Telborg UK Government

Google announces $10 million West Virginia Energy Impact Program

Google has announced a $10 million Energy Impact Program to support energy innovation and affordability in West Virginia. The first $1 million will fund the West Virginia Office of Energy across six counties, while additional funding will support home repairs and energy-efficiency upgrades tied to Google’s planned Buffalo data center campus.

Telborg Google

Repsol approves 150 MW electrolyser project in Tarragona

Repsol has approved development of its largest electrolyser to date, a 150 MW plant in Tarragona with Enagas Renovable holding a 25% stake. The project is expected to produce more than 22,000 metric tons of renewable hydrogen a year and involves a reported $400M investment.

Telborg Hydrogen Europe

ERC funds ETH Zurich projects on supercomputing and droplets

The European Research Council has awarded Synergy Grants to two ETH Zurich-linked international projects, one led by Torsten Hoefler on speeding up supercomputing with AI and another led by Ruth Signorell on the chemistry of tiny water droplets. The projects received 10 million euros and 14 million euros in total funding, respectively, with ETH Zurich receiving 2.5 million euros and 4.9 million euros.

Telborg ETH Zurich

NZECA reports 58% rise in net-zero portfolios

NZECA has released its 2026 Progress Report, saying members' net-zero committed portfolios rose 58% to USD376 billion and climate-committed exposure reached USD380 billion. The report also highlights project financing and deal examples, including UKEF's GBP211 million support for Angola's Uíge Electrification Project and other clean-energy and infrastructure transactions.

Telborg United Nations Environment | Finance Initiative